

Summer at McQuaid 2021 – COVID-19 Protocols

While the vast majority of restrictions related to COVID-19 have been lifted in New York, including for summer camps, the Center for Disease Control still has federal guidelines in place. In an effort to protect the health and safety of all members of the McQuaid Jesuit community, we will implement the following protocols for summer camps:

- Indoor settings: Mask usage is strongly encouraged, but not required, when in an indoor setting. At a minimum, we ask that all participants maintain social distancing of at three feet at all times when indoors. In addition, there might be situations that necessitate social distancing of at least 6 feet, such as eating or drinking indoors.
- Outdoor settings: In general, people do not need to wear masks outdoors. However, we encourage everyone to wear a mask if in a crowded outdoor setting or during activities that involve sustained close contact with other people. At a minimum, we ask that all participants maintain social distancing of at three feet at all times. In addition, there might be situations that necessitate social distancing of at least 6 feet, such as eating or drinking indoors.
- Regardless of being indoors and outdoors, we will continue to follow all cleaning, disinfecting, and ventilation recommendations as part of our camp operations this summer, especially for high-traffic and high-contact areas.
- We ask that all participants be mindful of their own health and safety, and, as such, ask that they stay home when not feeling well or after being in close contact to someone who exhibits COVID-19 symptoms.
