FOR ALUMNI, FAMILIES, AND FRIENDS OF MCQUAID JESUIT | Fall 2025

President's Report Edition

From the President's Office

As I reflect on my time at McQuaid Jesuit, I am struck by both the lasting strength of our traditions and the bright promise of our future. For more than seven decades, our mission has been rooted in forming young men who are intellectually curious, morally grounded, and spiritually active. That mission has never been more vital than it is today.

Over the past year, we have taken time as a community to imagine together what the next decade should hold for McQuaid Jesuit. The result of those conversations is Tradition Moves Forward: McQuaid Jesuit's strategic plan for 2025–2035. This plan honors the values that have guided us since our founding, while embracing the opportunities and challenges of the world in which our students will live and lead.

The plan is built upon three pillars: enhancing our mission, strengthening our school, and engaging our community. Each reflects our conviction that a McQuaid education is more than preparation for college or career; it is formation for a life of faith, purpose, and service. Guided by Ignatian principles, and inspired by the example of St. Ignatius himself, we remain committed to meeting each young man where he is, and helping him discover who he is called to become.

I am deeply grateful to the many voices of our students, faculty, staff, parents, alumni, trustees, and friends who contributed their wisdom and love for McQuaid to this plan. Their input ensures that as McQuaid continues to grow, we do so with clarity of vision and strength of purpose.

I invite you to learn more about this plan, and to join us in bringing it to life. Together, we will carry forward McQuaid Jesuit's proud tradition, ensuring that generations of Knights to come will be formed as Men for Others. Men who are ready to serve, to lead, and to transform the world.

Gratefully Yours,

Stephen R. Salluzzo, '90, P '18

When you see Jack Monsour, '26, on the cover of this issue of The Cauldron, you're seeing a snapshot. Behind the photo is a student deeply committed to his classmates, his school, and the larger McQuaid Jesuit community.

As a member of the Executive Council, Jack views his role as a bridge that connects students with the many opportunities McQuaid offers. "With the relationships I've made across all levels here, I knew I could help make the Class of 2026's year one to remember," he explains. His leadership is driven by the same motivation that guided him to become an admissions ambassador: a desire to give back to the school that has given him so much.

Jack Monsour, '26, gave an energetic speech while campaigning for the Executive Council.

Jack's McQuaid journey began in 7th grade after Siena Catholic Academy closed during the pandemic. From the start, he embraced athletics as a way to build friendships, competing in football, lacrosse, basketball, wrestling, and rugby. Beyond the field, he has immersed himself in service and spirituality through retreats and trips including Kairos, Emmaus, and the Dominican Republic immersion, experiences that shaped his perspective on life and strengthened his sense of responsibility toward others.

When asked what he values most about being a Knight, Jack didn't hesitate: brotherhood. "The absolute brotherhood that is created here at McQuaid is the best part," he says. "There seem to be no boundaries or limits to friendships, and everyone is not afraid to be themselves."

Jack's story is one of leadership, service, and growth, but it is just one of many. Every Knight carries a story that runs deeper than the surface, whether it's found in the fine arts, athletics, service, robotics, clubs, or the classroom. Together, these experiences form the rich fabric of a McQuaid Jesuit experience.

McQuaid's Mission

McQuaid Jesuit is a Catholic, Jesuit, college-preparatory school that inspires young men to realize their God-given gifts through the pursuit of excellence in all things, service to others, and a lifelong commitment to justice.

The Jesuit Legacy at McQuaid: A Mission Carried Forward

Since opening its doors in 1954, McQuaid Jesuit has been shaped and guided by the Society of Jesus. The school began as the fulfillment of Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid's long-held vision: a Jesuit high school in Rochester that would prepare young men in faith, academics, and service. When the school welcomed its first students, the presence of Jesuits was unmistakable. Over thirty Jesuit priests lived and worked on campus in those early years, teaching in classrooms, leading in administration, and forming students through prayer, retreat, and pastoral care.

Through the 1960s and 70s, McQuaid remained a bustling hub of Jesuit life, peaking with more than thirty-five priests and brothers serving the school. They were teachers, coaches, spiritual directors, and role models. Their commitment to education and formation created the foundation on which McQuaid has grown into a regional leader in Catholic and Jesuit education. Generations of alumni recall with gratitude the Jesuits who taught them, challenged them, and inspired them to live out the call to be "men for and with others."

Like many Jesuit schools and entities across the United States, the number of Jesuits assigned to McQuaid slowly declined over the decades. As vocations to the Society shifted and Jesuit ministries expanded globally, fewer priests could be stationed full-time in schools. Yet while their numbers diminished, the mission they instilled grew broader and deeper. Today, Jesuit education is carried forward in a new way; by lay colleagues who share in the mission, animated by the same Ignatian spirit that has defined Jesuit schools for nearly five centuries.

It is a reality that in the coming year McQuaid will no longer have Jesuits physically assigned to its campus. This is not a diminishment of our identity, but rather a call to recognize and celebrate how profoundly Jesuit this school truly is. Jesuit schools, as the saying goes, don't have a mission; the mission of the Society of Jesus has schools. That mission, to form students who are intellectually competent, open to growth, loving, religious, and committed to justice, remains alive at McQuaid. In fact, one might say it has never been stronger.

What Ignatian Identity Means

At the heart of McQuaid's Jesuit identity is the Ignatian tradition, named for St. Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus. Ignatian spirituality is rooted in the conviction that God can be found in all things and that each person is uniquely called to use his or her gifts in service to others. For students, this means more than academic rigor; it means being formed in conscience, compassion, and character. It means developing a discerning heart that seeks truth and strives to choose what leads to the greater good.

Jesuit education is not only about transferring knowledge, but about forming the whole person. At McQuaid, this is expressed through the hallmarks of Ignatian pedagogy: reflection, discernment, cura personalis ("care for the whole person"), and the call to be "men for and with others." Students are taught to pause and reflect on their experiences, to ask what God is calling them toward, and to act in ways that serve others with generosity and humility. This formation goes beyond the classroom. It takes shape in service projects, retreats, athletics, arts, and daily interactions. Every dimension of life at McQuaid is influenced by the Ignatian ideals.

Fr. Jack Podsiadlo, S.J., '58 is met with roaring applause after he celebrates his final Mass at McQuaid Jesuit on Sept 9, 2025.

For faculty and staff, Ignatian identity is not something assumed, it is intentionally formed. Every new McQuaid colleague participates in a five-year Ignatian formation program that introduces them to the history, values, and spiritual practices of the Jesuits. They study Ignatian pedagogy and Jesuit history, experience retreat, and explore how to bring the Jesuit mission into their own teaching, coaching, administration, or daily work. By the end of this process, lay educators are not simply employees of a Jesuit school, they are co-workers in the mission of the Society of Jesus. This intentional investment ensures that the Jesuit character of McQuaid does not depend on numbers of priests present, but on a community of adults who have been formed to take the mission into the future under the leadership of the school's President, Steve Salluzzo, '90, P '18, who is missioned by the Jesuits as the Director of the Work.

A Lasting Legacy and a Flourishing Future

As we look back with gratitude, it is impossible to overstate the impact the Jesuits have had in building and growing McQuaid Jesuit into what it is today: a beacon of Jesuit education in Western New York. Their teaching, their example, and their love for their students continue to reverberate in the lives of thousands of alumni who lead their communities with integrity, faith, and service.

And as we look forward, the Jesuit identity of McQuaid is not only preserved, it is flourishing. The mission of the Society of Jesus is alive in every classroom where teachers challenge their students to think critically and act compassionately. It is alive in every liturgy and retreat that nurtures the spiritual lives of young men. It is alive in the brotherhood and teamwork of athletics, in the creativity of the arts, and in the countless acts of service performed by McQuaid students.

The Jesuits gave McQuaid its foundation, and that foundation is rock-solid. The work now continues through the admin, faculty, staff, alumni, and families who share in the same Ignatian vision. Together, with the East Coast Society of Jesus, we remain committed to forming young men of competence, conscience, and compassion. Together, we ensure that the mission of the Society of Jesus continues to find life at McQuaid Jesuit; today, tomorrow, and for generations to come.

CAMPUS SEES MAJOR CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

Each summer, McQuaid Jesuit takes advantage of the quieter months to enhance its 33-acre campus, ensuring the school continues to meet the highest standards of excellence. This summer, however, marked one of the most ambitious periods of capital improvements in recent memory. A wide range of projects has transformed the campus and strengthened McQuaid's commitment to providing a premier educational experience for every student.

The Academic Center

Located on the second floor, the Academic Center underwent a significant transformation. The existing space was fully overhauled to create a more modern and collaborative environment for tutoring, quiet study, and academic support services. In addition, two original science classrooms, once separate from the main center, were completely renovated and physically integrated into the space. This more than doubled the size of the Academic Center, offering students improved access to resources, flexible learning zones, and updated technology to support 21st-century learning.

The John H. Ryan Jr. Memorial Gymnasium

One of the most striking transformations occurred in the John H. Ryan Jr. Memorial Gymnasium, where the entire court was removed down to the subfloor and replaced with an all-new hardwood playing surface. The result is a state-of-the-art gym that honors the legacy of John H. Ryan Jr., '80, while serving as a modern, durable foundation for practices, games, gym classes, and school gatherings. The new court mirrors the design of the recently updated turf on Tom Seymour Field, bringing a more cohesive look to McQuaid's athletic facilities.

The Deborah and John DiMarco, '60 Field House

Another major athletic facility received a much-needed upgrade this summer. The Deborah and John DiMarco, '60 Field House had its roof fully repaired and replaced, ensuring the long-term sustainability of one of McQuaid's most frequently used athletic spaces. The field house supports a range of sports and student activities, but is also home to BASH, AP testing, and much more throughout the year. The new roof ensures that it will continue to be a hub of activity for decades to come.

A Brand-New Parking Lot

Visitors returning to McQuaid this fall will immediately notice a major improvement before even stepping inside. Several campus parking lots were milled down and completely replaced over the summer, creating a safer, more organized, and more aesthetically pleasing arrival experience. The new surfaces enhance accessibility and extend the life of these essential spaces.

Additional Renovations Across Campus

Several smaller but important projects also took place over the summer. The middle school office suite was renovated to provide a more efficient and welcoming space for students and staff. The counseling offices were updated to offer greater privacy and comfort for student support services. The chorus classroom saw upgrades that improved both acoustics and instructional layout, enhancing the learning experience for McQuaid's performing arts students.

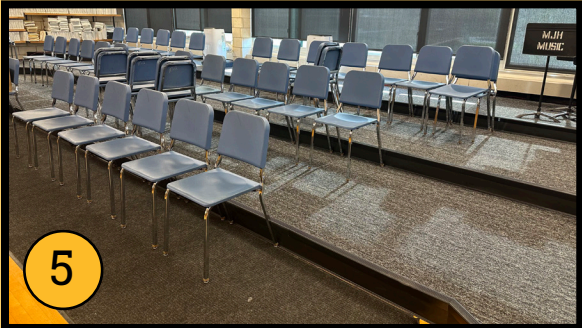

Student safety is a central focus of all that we do. As such, classrooms across campus received updates aimed at improving overall safety and security, reinforcing McQuaid's commitment to the well-being of every student, teacher, and staff member.

Future Plans

- Exciting plans are in place to upgrade the lighting and sound systems in the school auditorium. These enhancements will dramatically improve the experience for school performances, guest speakers, and other key events.

- Additionally, this fall, the baseball field will be receiving a full turf playing surface, allowing the Knights to take the field rain or shine!

- Plans are in place to create a veterans memorial, spanning the length of the campus, to honor alumni who were killed while serving our country in the line of duty.

68th Commencement Ceremony

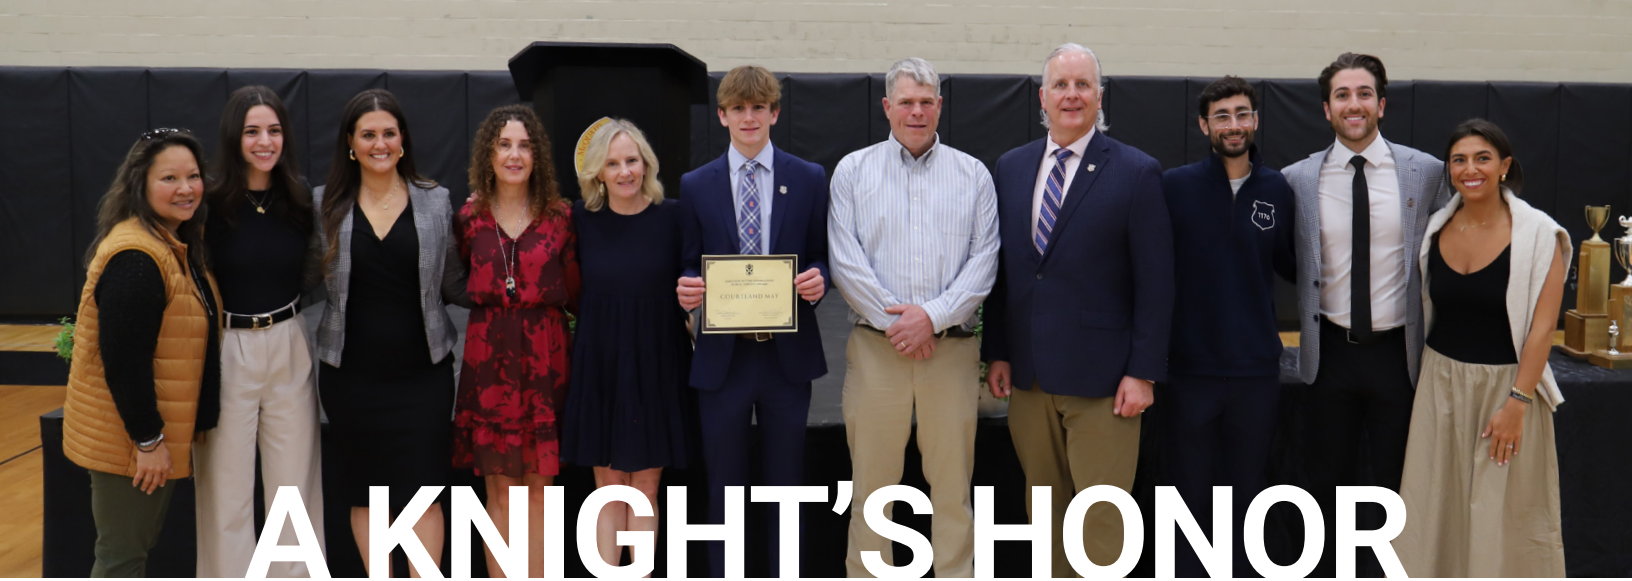

In a time-honored tradition, McQuaid Jesuit celebrated its 68th Commencement Ceremony on a warm June evening. Held once again in the Eastman Theatre, the occasion brought together families, faculty, alumni, and friends to honor the accomplishments of the graduating Class of 2025. As the lights dimmed and the music rose, the graduates made their entrance, each one dressed in the traditional white jacket, complete with red carnations on their lapels.

During the ceremony, the class was recognized for their academic achievements, spiritual growth, and commitment to service. Reflections from student speakers shared stories of growth, challenges, and friendships during their time at McQuaid. Their remarks echoed a common theme: that their experience at McQuaid had been transformative, both intellectually and personally.

After diplomas were presented, the class of 2025 exited the stage ready to embrace their next chapter and carry forward the values instilled in them at McQuaid Jesuit. The night ended with a booming Simba cheer outside the theatre.

The Class of 2025 now joins a brotherhood nearly seven decades strong, and leaves not only with a diploma, but with a mission: to lead with conscience, compassion, and courage.

A KNIGHT'S HONOR

The Jamieson Ritter Foundation, the Ritter family, and the May family come together during the Spring Awards Ceremony.

At this year's McQuaid Jesuit Awards Ceremony, a new and deeply meaningful honor was presented for the first time: the Jamieson Ritter Foundation Public Service Award. This award was created to commemorate the life and sacrifice of Jamieson R. Ritter, Class of 2015, who tragically lost his life in the line of duty on July 4, 2024, while serving as a Cleveland Police Officer.

Just a month prior to his death, Jamieson had been recognized for his heroism in multiple life-threatening situations. He is remembered by classmates, family, and colleagues for his charisma, intelligence, spontaneity, and boundless passion for life. After graduating from McQuaid Jesuit, Jamieson attended Syracuse University, where he participated in Army ROTC and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Army National Guard. Following his commission, he joined the Cleveland Department of Police and deployed to Syria under Operation Inherent Resolve, where he earned the Combat Action Badge.

Throughout his life, Jamieson demonstrated remarkable dedication to service and leadership. This new award, established by the Jamieson Ritter Foundation, aims to honor his legacy by recognizing and empowering another young Knight who embodies his spirit of selfless service.

The inaugural Jamieson Ritter Foundation Public Service Award was presented to Courtland May, '25, marking the beginning of what will surely become one of McQuaid Jesuit's most meaningful traditions.

Athletics Highlights

Winter & Spring 2024-25

McQuaid Jesuit is proud to celebrate the accomplishments of its athletics programs during the winter and spring seasons of the 2024-25 school year. Rooted in a tradition of excellence, our student-athletes embodied the values of teamwork, brotherhood, and sportsmanship, wearing the black and gold colors with pride. From capturing two Section V titles to earning a host of individual honors, the Knights continue to demonstrate what it means to compete with character and strive for greatness on and off the field. In recognition of their outstanding commitment to both athletics and academics, McQuaid was also named a School of Distinction, an honor awarded to schools with 100% of their varsity teams having earned Scholar-Athlete team awards during their respective seasons.

Alpine Skiing: A full team effort helped McQuaid earn second place in the Section V Championships at Hunt Hollow Ski Club. After a first-place finish in the Giant Slalom, Hudson Proia, '26 was voted "Player of the Year" by the Democrat and Chronicle.

Baseball: A hard earned 14-6 regular season record clinched a bye to the championship series where the Knights faced Fairport. Cole Englert, '25 pitched a complete game against the Red Raiders, striking out six and leading McQuaid to an 11-6 victory in the deciding game of a dramatic 3-game series. The victory over Fairport marks the 10th Section V title in program history!

Basketball: Improving throughout the year, McQuaid gained momentum late in the season.

After a clutch victory against UPrep, the Knights fell to eventual champions Rush-Henrietta in the tournament semifinals. Jaiyden Jones, '25 was selected to the Ronald McDonald House All-Star Games.

Bowling: Successfully defending their league title, the Knights were once again RCAC champions. McQuaid earned a 7th place finish at the Section V Championships with Stanley Purdie, '25 bowling a team high 1054 pins over six games.

Golf: After thrilling victories over Churchville-Chili and Spencerport, McQuaid fell to Victor in the championship round of the Section V playoffs. Austin Erdmann, '26 and Reid Wilson, '26 were both voted to the Democrat and Chronicle's All-Greater Rochester first team!

Hockey: McQuaid Hockey finished a strong season with a 13-7-1 record, including two wins over Aquinas. The Knight's season ended in the tournament semifinals, with a heartbreaking 1-0 (2OT) loss to Pittsford, despite the heroic efforts of goaltender Owen Salinas, '25 who stopped more than 50 shots that game.

Indoor Track: The Indoor Track team finished in second place at the Section V Championships, with Max Schnittman, '25, Ian Lanahan, '27, and Rhoan Kaulder, '26 each winning their individual events. Kaulder dominated the winter season, claiming the New York State 60m Dash title with a time of 6.35 seconds.

Lacrosse: The Knights put together another powerful season, finishing the regular season with a 10-6 record, earning the #1 seed in the Section V Tournament. After dominating Rush-Henrietta in the semifinals, McQuaid fell to Penfield in a hard fought championship game.

Outdoor Track: McQuaid Track and Field captured another Section V Championship! The Knights scored 109 points as a team, aided by the effort of Max Schnittman, '25 who scored in four different events, including a first place finish in the 3000m steeplechase.

"The fastest man in New York," Rhoan Kaulder, '26 defended his indoor sprint title with a 1st place finish in the 100m dash (10.60) at the state championship meet.

Swim & Dive: The Knights have blown their competition out of the water! Ian Miller, '27 won the 100y Butterfly and the 100y Backstroke at last year's Section V Championship meet. At the same meet, Ben Hinds, '26 won the 100m breaststroke and the 200y IM. Hinds, Miller, Luke McCormack, '26, and Xavier Joseph, '26 finished their season together at the New York State Championships, racing the 200 Free Relay, and earning 2nd place (1:24.54)!

Tennis: The Tennis team continued to stack victories this past spring. Linus Hansford, '29 and Liam Broshears, '28 stood out on a young team with a promising future.

Wrestling: Wrestlers Colin Zito, '28 and Casey Liess, '26 had outstanding seasons! After both Knights claimed their weight class title in Section V, they competed at the New York State Championships where Liess earned 2nd place in the 170lb division.

HALL OF FAME

MCQUAID JESUIT ATHLETICS

2020 Athletic Hall of Fame Inductees

Stephen C. Baker, '10

Soccer

Stephen Baker broke nearly every scoring record at McQuaid, including 42 goals in a season and 118 total career goals. He led McQuaid to a Section V title in 2009 before a successful collegiate career at the University of Pennsylvania.

Christopher A. Heier, '80

Football

Chris Heier rushed for over 2,200 career yards and led McQuaid to its first Section V title in 1978. A two-way star and MVP, he went on to play for the University of Delaware, appearing in the 1982 I-AA national title game.

Fr. Leon J. Hogenkamp, S.J.

Supporter

Fr. Hogenkamp served McQuaid for over 40 years, becoming the youngest Jesuit principal in the U.S. in 1971. A tireless supporter of athletics, he helped usher McQuaid into Section V competition and was a constant presence cheering on Knights across all sports.

1988 & 1989 4x800m Relay Teams

The 4x800 relay teams of '88 and '89, anchored by Brad Sumner, '89, Scott Romanowski, '89, and others, won back-to-back state titles and Eastern States championships. In 1988, they ran the fastest U.S. high school time of the year, cementing their dominance in McQuaid and national track history.

This fall, McQuaid Jesuit welcomed back a long-standing tradition with the return of its Athletic Hall of Fame, marking the first celebration since 2019. The event honored two deserving classes of inductees, from 2020 and 2025, whose recognition had been delayed but not forgotten. Surrounded by teammates, coaches, family, and friends, these men were celebrated for their accomplishments on the field and for the impact they've had beyond it.

The Hall of Fame is more than a list of accolades; it's a reflection of the time, effort, and character it takes to represent McQuaid Jesuit athletics at the highest level. Whether their influence was felt during their playing days as Knights or later in the wider world of sports, each inductee has shaped the legacy of McQuaid athletics in meaningful ways. Their stories remind us what it means to compete with integrity, to lead with humility, and to carry forward the values of McQuaid Jesuit.

2025 Athletic Hall of Fame Inductees

Christian A. Blough, '13 Volleyball

Christy Blough led McQuaid to three straight state championships, earning Player of the Year and Tournament MVP honors in 2012. A scholar-athlete and four-year varsity setter at Ohio State, he helped the Buckeyes win two NCAA titles and was inducted into the OSU Athletics Hall of Fame in 2024.

Richard A. Deleguardia, '65 Football

Dick Deleguardia quarterbacked McQuaid's undefeated 1963 team and engineered a legendary comeback win over Aquinas in 1964. A true leader and team-first player, he lost only five games during his four-year varsity career and left a legacy of excellence and courage.

Matthew N. Nesser, '83 Basketball

A key player during McQuaid's dominant early '80s basketball teams, Matt Nesser served as the court general alongside McDonald's All-American Tom Sheehey, '83. A D&C All-Greater Rochester selection, he averaged 20 points and 8 assists as a senior before continuing at Mercyhurst. A "Man for Others," Matt exemplified leadership as an athlete, educator, and coach.

1975 Wrestling Team

The 1975 wrestling team went undefeated (15-0), becoming McQuaid's first wrestling squad to finish a perfect season. Fueled by Coach John Roselli's, '60 passion, the close-knit team rose to the occasion and delivered the season "everyone waited for."

McQuaid Senior Recognized for Biomedical Research

This summer, McQuaid Jesuit senior Xavier Joseph presented research at the Society for Robotic Surgery (SRS) annual meeting in Strasbourg, France. His project focused on evaluating the safety and feasibility of combining two procedures: robot-assisted radical prostatectomy and inguinal hernia repair with mesh. "From our data we concluded that the combined surgery was 'safe and effective,' and avoids the need for multiple operations, eliminating the risk of increased patient morbidity."

"I presented this study in two different settings; one in poster format to practicing surgeons and researchers; the other at the SRS Teen Session, an educational session to peers 13-19 years old about robotic surgery. At the Teen Session, I was given an award for 'Scientific Excellence.'"

For Joseph, the experience was both challenging and rewarding. "Presenting in Strasbourg was extremely stressful, but also exciting. I was extremely grateful for the unique opportunity and learned a lot about how to communicate science to different audiences."

"At McQuaid, I have had lots of freedom in my STEM pursuits, which most interest me," he said. "This project connected those interests with real-world impact in medicine. The work required analyzing data carefully, thinking critically about outcomes, and collaborating with others."

Looking ahead, Joseph hopes to study biomedical engineering in college. "My long-term goal is to contribute to medical innovation, and college will be the next step to expand my foundation."

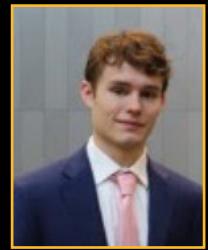

“What motivates me most is the possibility of helping patients indirectly through research and innovation.

A Doctor with Patience

Dr. Gary Gala, '79 Reflects on His Career in Medicine

If you ask Dr. Gary Gala how he ended up as Associate Professor of UNC's Psychiatry and Mental Health Program, he'll be the first to admit: it wasn't part of the plan. Not psychiatry, not North Carolina, not even McQuaid Jesuit.

In fact, back in 1975, as his eighth grade year came to a close at Irondequoit, Gala was set on attending Bishop Kearney High School. "I really wanted to go to Bishop Kearney, especially because there were girls," he laughed. But his mother had other ideas. "She said, 'That's probably the right choice. You'd never pass the McQuaid entrance exam anyway.'"

That little challenge lit a spark. Gala took the test, passed, and soon found himself walking the halls of McQuaid Jesuit. Only later did he realize how proud his mother truly was.

Those early days weren't easy. The Jesuit curriculum stretched him in ways he hadn't expected, but patience, something that would become a theme in his life, carried him through. By junior year he was on the swim team, and he spent four years immersed in Mr. Ladd's Science Club, where his curiosity and persistence found a natural home.

When he graduated in 1979, Gala headed to Holy Cross. Even then, medicine wasn't a sure thing. His SAT scores kept him out of the pre-med program at first, so he started undeclared, tried English, and worked relentlessly until he earned his spot in pre-med. "I didn't have tremendous test scores," Gala admits, "but eventually everything worked out."

That willingness to wait, to grind, to trust the process soon became the rhythm of his career. After medical school, he and his wife ran a small general surgery practice in rural North Carolina. Later, opportunities opened in psychiatry and medical education, directions he never could have predicted years prior, but ones that fit him perfectly.

Looking back, he points to McQuaid as the anchor. "McQuaid was a tremendous foundation," he said. "Our teachers' perspective was, 'We don't know what you'll face in your lives, but if we teach you to read and think critically, you'll be ready.' That's exactly what I needed."

Now, from his home in Chapel Hill, Gala continues to give back. His support of McQuaid comes from simple conviction: "I just believe in McQuaid's mission. I think that if I can contribute, even in small ways to help McQuaid be financially successful and offer more scholarships to students who are disadvantaged, then that's what I'll do."

And he's not done growing. Just last year, he joined the Ignatian Volunteer Corps, which connects adults with service opportunities rooted in Ignatian spirituality. Partnered with Jesuit Worldwide Learning, he now teaches introductory physical science to 30 students studying remotely from refugee camps in Africa.

From a freshman at McQuaid, just finding his way, to directing medical programs at UNC and mentoring those in classrooms across the world, Dr. Gary Gala's story has been shaped by patience and openness to the unexpected. He may not know where the next turn will lead, but he's always patiently waiting, ready to meet it when it comes.

“I just believe in McQuaid's mission. I think that if I can contribute, even in small ways to help McQuaid be financially successful and offer more scholarships to students who are disadvantaged, then that's what I'll do. - Dr. Gary Gala, '79

A Message From The Advancement Office

VP of Advancement, Heather Whiting, P '25, '28, pins the traditional red carnation on her son Ethan as he prepares to walk the stage of the Eastman.

Tradition Moves Forward

McQuaid Jesuit enters the 2025–26 academic year with great momentum and a bold vision for the future. With the approval of our ten-year strategic plan, we have set a clear trajectory for the next decade; one that builds upon our heritage while looking confidently ahead. Guided by our Jesuit values and sustained by the generous support of our loyal community, we are driving toward remarkable growth.

Our plan challenges us to form young men rooted in faith and service, foster academic achievement, expand financial aid, and invest in facilities that inspire learning and personal growth. Rooted in tradition, this vision drives our mission forward with strong purpose.

Your investment of time, talent, and treasure allows McQuaid to remain a place where young men are prepared to lead with integrity, serve with compassion, and live as “men for others.” We are deeply grateful for your trust and generosity as we carry forward a legacy of excellence and a mission that defines who we are.

We are McQuaid Jesuit and together, we move tradition forward.

With heartfelt gratitude,

IgKnights Have Historic 15th Season

McQuaid Jesuit's robotics team, The IgKnights, capped off their 15th anniversary season with one of the most remarkable runs in team history, ending the 2025 season ranked 107th in the world (out of 3605) and solidifying their reputation as fierce competitors on the national stage.

This year's FIRST Robotics Competition game, Reefscape, challenged teams to design and build robots capable of manipulating large PVC tubes and 18-inch playground balls. McQuaid's 30-member team, supported by 15 dedicated mentor coaches, built their machine, "DynaKnight," entirely from scratch.

The IgKnights opened their season with a busy tournament schedule, competing at Rochester (RIT), Albany (Tech Valley), and Cleveland (Buckeye). Their performances turned heads: ranked 1st, 15th, and 8th respectively, they reached the finals in two of those three events. Their impressive scoring power earned them a first-ever invitation to the World Championships in Houston.

In Houston, competing in the Daly Division, the team's journey was anything but easy. After a rough start and some serious mechanical setbacks, the IgKnights clawed their way to 45th out of 75. Thanks to some savvy alliance-building (and a lot of persuasive "salesmanship" from the team captains), McQuaid was drafted into a powerful playoff alliance. That group went on an incredible run all the way to the division finals, earning the IgKnights a 2nd-place finish on the world stage.

The off-season brought more opportunities to test DynaKnight's might. Competing at Flower City Frenzy (Wilson HS), North Catholic Competition (Pittsburgh), and Ra Cha Cha Ruckus (Penfield HS), McQuaid's robot dominated every field it touched. The IgKnights claimed first place at all three, ending with a perfect 12–0 record at Ruckus.

Between March and October, the team competed in 94 matches, sitting out only once. And while the IgKnights are famous for their silver finishes, holding the second-most second-place finishes in all of FIRST, this season proved that their persistence, creativity, and teamwork keeps their fire burning stronger than ever.

As they look ahead to their sixteenth season, one thing is certain: The IgKnights are still heating up.

Your Legacy. Their Future.

This is our goal...

No qualified student who is accepted at McQuaid Jesuit is ever denied admission for financial reasons.

Achieving this goal is only made possible because of YOU!

When you make a planned gift to McQuaid Jesuit, you join countless others who have ensured that McQuaid can honor this commitment for current students and future generations of Knights.

The Fr. Noonan, S.J. Knights' Heritage Society is comprised of alumni, parents, and friends who intend to leave a legacy in their own name or in the name of a loved one through a designation in their estate plans.

There are many ways to make a planned gift, all with their unique benefits for McQuaid Jesuit and for you as the donor:

- Gift in your will or living trust
- Gift of retirement plans
- Gifts of real estate
- Gift of life insurance
- Gift of stocks

In addition to reaching out to your accountant and/or estate attorney for financial and legal advice, please connect with Kristie Robertson-Coyne, Senior Director of Major Gifts & Planned Giving at McQuaid Jesuit for additional support. She can provide you with the appropriate language for your will and discuss meaningful opportunities for your gift designation at McQuaid. You can reach her at: krobertson-coyne@mcquaid.org or 585-256-6183.
